Recovery

The World Service Conference identifies personal recovery as a critical component to being a successful NAWS trusted servant. With that in mind, please reply to the following personal recovery-oriented questions:

1. Do you attend NA meetings on a regular basis?

Yes. Regular means 2-3 meetings per week, unless there is a birthday celebration, or if I am traveling and have no access.

2. Do you have an NA Sponsor?

Yes.

3. Have you worked all Twelve Steps of NA?

Yes.

Relevant Education, Occupation, and Life Experiences

Education

I have two bachelors degrees, one in business and one in political science.

Occupation

I am currently one of three owners of a nutritional supplement manufacturing company. All three owners are in recovery and we mainly employ recovering addicts, believing that everyone deserves second chances and employment only helps to foster progress in personal recovery.

Life Experiences

I am the only son of a single mother who was a intravenous drug user for most of my youth, but who now has over 4 years clean, who taught me about perseverance. I am married for 11 years now to another recovering addict, she teaches me about cooperation, and setting my ego aside for the greater good. I am a father of 3 which has taught me patience, tolerance and acceptance. I am a grandfather of 2.5 (one is on the way), these little ones have taught me about unconditional love. I have been an entrepreneur for most of my life, even before I got clean I had my own business. This has taught me about holding a higher context and inspiring others to be their best, not only for themselves but for the company as well. I have overcome a huge weight problem going from 280lbs to 190lbs, through diet and exercise, this has taught me about commitment and discipline. I am a 4 time Ironman triathlon finisher, which has taught me about determination and sacrifice. I have lead an community service based mens organization in Atlanta, being in charge of the coordination efforts of those teams of men to be the men that they have always wanted to be, by mentoring men to live with excellence, and inspiring them to create successful families, careers, and communities. I am currently a member of the BOD for the above mentioned organization, this role is currently teaching me to have a more global perspective and higher context, by serving at the grass roots level and now the director level my view is becoming more holistic and understanding the needs for both sides of that coin. This is showing that we need every level of service in order for NA to thrive, from the member all the way to the World Board, we all need each other.
